

Because healthcare training must never stop advancing...

PROMED
Advance
TRAINING

First for medical seminars and on-line courses

Advance your practice with advanced training...

Promed Advance Training

Promed has a long established reputation for organising training on a variety of topics. Monthly training events are offered around the country with on-line courses to complete at your convenience. All courses are CPD approved and suitable for GP's and Nurses.

Topics include:

- ECG Interpretation
- Spirometry
- Infection Control
- Ear care
- Wound Care
- Cryotherapy

"Excellent – Speaker is very clear, easy to listen to and good at explaining. I felt the level of difficulty was just right (not too detailed or too basic) and content was just what I was looking for"

Practice Nurse, Wexford

"Excellent morning, very informative and relevant to my daily workload. Thank you."

Practice Nurse, Meath

"Very practical and useful. Thank you"

GP, Monaghan

Primary Health Care is constantly developing and improving due to new skills and services being introduced by providers, improvements in technology, and patient expectations.

As your partner in practice Promed provides opportunities to advance your knowledge and skills through our seminars and workshops, thus enabling you to meet the new challenges these developments present.

Since the launch of our educational workshops and seminars in 2004, Promed has always partnered with leading practitioners as trainers to provide the highest quality education. We are currently working with a team of clinical experts covering a wide range of subjects from Cryotherapy to Blood Results Analysis. We have expanded the range of seminars and workshops provided and have now increased the number of events we will be providing each year.

At Promed we understand that time is a precious resource within the practice and sometimes healthcare professionals may be unable to attend our seminars and workshops. We have partnered with CB Training, a leader in healthcare education to provide a comprehensive range of online courses which can be completed over time allowing you to work at your own pace. All of our online courses, including 2 free demonstration versions can be found at www.promed.ie

Either through utilisation of our on-line courses or by attending our seminars and workshops primary healthcare professionals will have access to information on over 100 different clinical areas thus ensuring you can provide the highest quality of care to your patients.

Course information and registration detail for all our educational seminars and workshops can be found on our website at www.promed.ie

If you would like further information about Promed Advance TRAINING, please contact us on T: 1800 619619 or E: sales@promed.ie