Information technology is playing an increasing role in our everyday life and this is no different for Primary Care practices, from the diagnostic equipment used to assess your patients to online training courses and ordering your medical consumables.

Promed's Advance NETWORK package brings together the most complete web offer for Primary Care practices. Our webshop available at www.promed.ie gives you access to our full medical catalogue where you can peruse the range of equipment and consumables at your leisure.

Select the items you require, when you log in your personal pricing is displayed and simply proceed to the check out to pay on your normal 30 day credit account. Email notification and the delivery tracking code are sent when the goods are dispatched.

As an added incentive all on-line orders also receive an additional discount off the invoice price

Through your online account you have full visibility of your order history and with our unique stock control system why not optimise your practice stock, reduce your stock holding and take advantage of Promed's reliable next day delivery.

The Promed Advance TRAINING package has an extensive offering of online courses and training seminars for GP's and Practice Nurses, full details are on the Promed website

To keep up to date with all of our events and latest news follow Promed on Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn or talk to your account manager about our VIP text club.

If it is product information, best practice guidelines or the latest edition of our Essential Medical newsletter you are looking for all are available at www.promed.ie
